Dear Parents, Carers and Students,

I am pleased to inform you that following a recent monitoring visit by Ofsted, the school's ongoing progress has been evaluated and outlined in the enclosed letter.

There is much to be encouraged by. The evaluation shows the positive course of action and outcomes in the school. The inspection recognises that steps we have taken have led to improvements, in both the education students receive and the general life of the school. It also confirms our views about where further improvements are needed and the areas we need to continue to work on.

I would like to thank students, parents, carers, staff and the community for their help and support so far during this process of improvement at the school. What I hope you take from the inspection is that your efforts are being recognised, but that we must keep going to create and secure the school that Breckland and its families deserve.

Improvement is taking place every day, but it is an ongoing process and there is still a long way to go. One positive monitoring inspection is a good start, but everyone at the school must continue to work hard to ensure the positive steps that we have taken so far are just the beginning. I recognise the issues that are mentioned within the report and we will continue to work on overcoming them.

If you have any questions about the report or the school, please do not hesitate to contact me by phone, by email or to arrange a meeting.

Yours faithfully

A M Tilbrook
